

Data quality, enrichments and entities

Pablo Uceda Gomez, Europeana Association, The Hague

Although difficult to define, data quality is an essential factor to build a powerful database. Europeana can enrich the provided data and add richer information to the records but to do so the data need to be provided in a certain way. In this presentation I will explain how the enrichment system works and why this is important for us and for you.